I'm writing this letter because Thansuda Oonseda cheated on me. When I met her about 2 months ago, she said that she would like to marry me because her family told her to find a good, rich husband. My plan was to stay in Japan, but she said that we could marry, stay, and live in Thailand. After I came back from Japan to Thailand, she was excellent, and I decided to invest time and money into our relationship. She agreed to have a baby with me, and we decided to have unprotected sex, and she stopped taking pills.

When I was with Thanusa in Udoni Thani Province, she said that she was really happy that she could live with me in Bangkok because her life in Pattaya was like a nightmare. She said that she was not making enough money, and she lied to her family about her job. She told me that she rented a restaurant, and she was a burden mother inside this restaurant. Not only that, but she said that she wants to quit this kind of life, and I cannot share this with her family. She said that someone offered her group sex, and she was scared. She also told me about some boy with whom Thanusda is in love; this bike driver does not have money and is driving a bike.

I explained to Thansuda that I'm on a Tourist visa in Thailand and I have to leave Thailand every month, so she promised me that we could travel together, come back to Thailand, and get married. So for that reason, I gave her money for a new passport, and this is the reason that she has a passport. When we came back from Udon Thani province, she was angry. Her Father came to Bangkok, and we went together to collect her clothes from her condo in Pattaya called argentum. She could not collect her stuff from the condo because she did not have keys or a receptionist.

The same day, we went to the Mitsubishi Cars Sale Saloon, and I bought a brand new car for my wife. She said that her dream is to have a happy family, which includes her husband, kids, car and a house. It was the reason that I bought her car, even though she doesn't have driving license. Her father told me that he's taking Thanusa for dinner, and after a few hours she texted me that she's drinking alcohol with her father in Bangkok and came back very drunk with a bottle of alcohol in her hand.

The next day, she stopped speaking with me and told me that she didn't want to travel with me anymore. Around midnight, she gets out of the condominium, Aspire erawan Erawan Prime without notice. She took a pregnancy test and left all her belongings (shoes, handbags, clothes, travel suitcase, cosmetics, underwear) inside the condo. She stopped to text me back, and when I called her and asked if she was pregnant, she cut off the line.

Likewise, she refused to speak with me; she wrote that she wouldn't come back to our condo. I wrote to her, saying that if she doesn't want to come back, she is supposed to give back the key to the condo ASPIRE ERAWAN PRIME. She wrote that she sent the keys, and in 3 days I will have them by mail. 3 working days gone, and I don't have keys to my condo; for that reason, I went to the Mitsubishi sale salon and asked to call thansuda and ask in Thai language if she was coming back to me, and if she sent keys to my condo by mail. She replied that she's not coming back and sent keys.

8/07/2024 She did not give back the keys to the condo and stopped contacting me. I think that she has a massive problem in the Pattaya area with some boys who are motorcycle riders. It is possible she has to pay some money for the protection of her "restaurant". For that reason, I'm sending this letter to the Police in Thailand.

They should check where this money from my bank account goes. It is possible she is being teased by someone, and she is scared to talk with anyone. She said that she has been in Pattaya for 3 years, and her mother never visits her. Her father visited Thansuda only one in Pattaya, and she said that she could not lean on her family.

She extorted money in the amount of 394,555 THB. I attached proof of a bank transfer from my Thai bank account to Thansuda and her family account.

For that reason, I would like to Claim Back Dwary money because It was money for my wife's family, and she ran out of me and does not want to be my wife anymore.

If I don't receive a bank transfer, I will open a court case for organizing a fake marriage party to extort money from me from her Thansuda family.

I think that what Thandusa did was not ethical and terrible, but I spent many nice days with her, which is why I'm writing this letter and trying to finish relationships like a friend, not like an enemy.
